

Role: Research Analyst (Intern)

Location: Remote

Responsibilities:

As a Research Analyst, you will support our Managing Partners and Senior Consultants in the production of ongoing intelligence services. Your responsibilities will primarily involve:

- Monitor selected clients' business environments (strategic competitor and customer movements, industry trends, regulatory changes, etc.) in a variety of industries utilizing market intelligence platforms and public sources
- Synthesize large volumes of industry and company news to effectively identify, analyze, and communicate key events
- Regularly provide input to consultants to enhance deliverables and to identify emerging trends
- Contributing to the production of client-specific market, competitor, and customer analysis reports
- Providing research and analysis for ad hoc strategic projects
- Work on various internal strategic initiatives

Qualifications:

- Available for a duration of at least 3 months (Monday to Friday)
- Ability to work from home
- Candidates should have access to their own laptop and a reliable internet connection
- Basic proficiency with MS Word, Excel, and PowerPoint
- Pursuing a degree in Engineering, or any degree with a specialization in Marketing, Statistics, Finance, or Economics
- A willingness to work in a variety of industries and a general curiosity about all of them
- Excellent written and oral communication skills
- Able to work well under tight deadlines
- Organized, possess attention to detail, and able to accomplish work in a fast-paced environment
- Previous work experience in business/market research is an asset

This internship is most suitable for professionals who are looking to convert their internship into a full-time position

An Experience Certificate and a Letter of Recommendation will be provided

Apply online or write to us at work@bookyourresearch.com